

I feel the morse code proficiency requirement for band access is no longer justified, there are digital formats that trump manual code into obsolescence.